

Reservations

- Give residents flexibility and control while managing mealtime traffic.
- Customizable features and availability limits to fit your community's needs.
- Special requests and configurable notification settings available.
- Utilize across campus for increased participation, improved resident experience, and improved planning.
- Integrates into existing community portals, simplifying resident access.

“ We love FullCount's reservation feature and use it every day, for every meal. Because we know the names and number of residents and guests dining with us, it is easy for dining managers to know where to assign staff.

We couldn't go a day without FullCount's reservation module, because we would be lacking a lot of crucial information for our dining operations.
